

Membership Policy

This policy regulates the rules of conduct for all our members and participants of group mentoring programs.

Privacy Policy

Everything related to processing and keeping your data is listed in a separate privacy policy that you can also read on our site.

Conduct

Our pages are intended primarily for personal development and we strive to include a positive attitude in all our discussions. In our communication we:

- do not use rude language;
- do not offend others;
- do not discriminate on any basis;
- do not use the site for personal promotion and sale of any kind.

We are primarily here for the purpose of learning to support each other.

Members respect the privacy of other members and information and discussions within the pages intended for members, members do not disclose or use anywhere else without the express personal written permission of that member.

Limitation of liability

Members who do not comply with the rules of conduct will be warned, and in case of serious and intentional violation of the Membership policies or repeated violations after the warning Sensa Viva will exclude such members. Sensa Viva cannot take responsibility for the behavior of individual members and we ask you to take use your judgment when disclosing sensitive information you provide in front of the group.

Update

Membership policy can be changed from time to time and we recommend that you check our pages for update. In case of any additional questions feel free to contact us at info@sensaviva.com.